In 2016, GreatChina launched a new program called Maxlvy International

Education which was designed to continually motivate and guide the Chinese children (3-12) to achieve self-exploration and self-development through the second language study.

Maxlvy includes English Immersion Programs, Enrichment Programs and Parent Education Programs for families with children aged from 3 to 12.

The mission of Maxlvy is to prepare children to become global citizens through delivering high-quality learning and enrichment opportunities.

The English Immersion Programs and Enrichment Programs provide a wide range of educational and recreational opportunities that support young children's language, cognitive and social development. Language programs also focus on teaching English within the context of different disciplines and topics to build students' conversational and contextual abilities for communicating in English. This aspect is important to the holistic preparation of children for future rigorous academic environments abroad.

The Parent Education Programs strengthen families and family communication through parenting classes and activities that promote healthy parent-child interactions.
